

TAN LARK YANG

DIRECTOR

Mr Tan Lark Yang is a Director at IDA International Pte Ltd, a subsidiary of the Infocomm Development Authority of Singapore (IDA). His responsibilities include formulating business strategies in new markets, as well as spearheading and overseeing business development activities in the organisation.

Mr Tan brings with him more than 20 years of general management and technical experience working with Public Sector worldwide. Most recently, he played an instrumental role in Hewlett-Packard's senior management team and held several senior positions including General Manager of Asia-Pacific Japan Government Affairs, Enterprise Client Executive (Worldwide) and board member of HP Global Privacy and Data Protection Board.

Mr Tan began his career with HP as a software engineer and quickly moved on to become Project Director and Enterprise Technical Business Development Director. He became general manager for the company's public sector, transportation & logistics sector and was responsible for managing the enterprise sales and services for eGovernment, Defence, Intelligence, and logistic industries for Asia Pacific & Japan, and subsequently worldwide.

Throughout his career, he has successfully managed and delivered some of the largest public sector projects for HP worldwide, gaining an excellent client track record and extensive knowledge in sales and technical management.

Mr Tan graduated from Colorado State University, USA with a Bachelor of Computer Science/Natural Sciences.